

Only God

*Only god is the one who can judge us, he's the one who decides the time
Only god is the one who judge us, and his hands can make old things new*

Bridge:

I can change, you can change

We can change, together we change

Chorus:

We can never know when it's time to go

We would die for you, if you told us to

We can never change what is meant to be

We are so blinded of what we see

Only god can make us feel alive, he's the one who decides the time

Only god can save this world, and his hands can make old things new

Bridge:

I can change, you can change

We can change, together we change
